“ Whatever happens in the world of architecture, interior decoration and design features in the pages of SYNTHESES. Impressive spaces and creations, people who determine the aesthetic world here and abroad, are presented in every issue in a carefully prepared publication produced by an experienced team of journalists and special associates. Another regular feature in the magazine is a market guide which focuses on a different part of the house each time – the living room, the dining room, bedrooms, kitchen, bathrooms, the garden – so that readers can make their own choice based on their needs, taste and budget. First published in 1988, it has built up a loyal, demanding readership which has been following it every month now for the past 25 years. With a high circulation and readership and a large number of subscribers, SYNTHESES tops readers’ preference with 50% or one in two of those who read architecture and interior design magazines in Cyprus. Also distributed with SYNTHESES during the year are specialised supplements with dedicated features. ”

SYNTHESES circulates every two months with Phileleftheros’ Saturday issue – the leading newspaper in both readership and circulation figures- at a special price and is later available at the newsstands.
